Facebook Business Manager

Why Advertise on Facebook?

Large and Active Audience

- On average 1.45 billion users are on Facebook daily and 2.2 billion users are active monthly. Facebook is one of the best opportunity for hitting a qualified online user outside of Search Advertising

1.45 Billion Daily Users

Why Advertise on Facebook?

Low Advertising Costs

- Facebook is affordable and scalable. Across our client base, in 2017, we saw an Avg. CPC of $1.86. With the lower ad costs, Facebook allows you to reach a larger, more qualified audience

Highly Qualified Audience

- Facebook offers amazing targeting capabilities. Within Facebook you have the ability to not only target a user's location but their buying habits, family size, lifestyle, interests, career, and more

Expanding Your Audience

- Like any network, over time your audience becomes saturated due to high ad exposure. Facebook makes it easy to find new and relevant audience via lookalike audiences

Rescued Conversions

- Facebook is great for triggering users that have entered the funnel and assist them in completing their purchase. With Facebook you have the ability to target users that have already expressed interest in your product and assist them in completing a purchase

Getting Started on Facebook

Setting Up Business Manager Account

- Before you can begin running amazing ads, you first need to create a Business Manager Account
- A business Manager Account will allow you to create / manage ad accounts as well as assign individual users to the ad accounts
- It is at the Business Manager Level where you can apply different payment methods such as a credit card authorization or a monthly invoice

Building an Ad Account

- After your Business Manager Account has been set up, you are ready to begin building the individual ad accounts
- Ad Accounts are broken up into three main areas - campaign, ad set, and ad
- Before you begin building your campaigns you will first need to set up your tracking pixel.
- This pixel will need to be placed onto the web page in order for Facebook to optimize towards your KPIs. In most cases, you cannot complete a campaign build without your tracking pixel being created (creating a pixel will be covered in a later webinar)

Building a Campaign

Building a Campaign

There are several different campaign types you can choose from. The campaign type you select indicates the marketing objective that you want Facebook to optimize towards

Campaign Types:

- Awareness
 - Brand Awareness
 - Reach
- Consideration
 - Traffic
 - Engagement
 - App Installs
 - Video Views
 - Lead Generation
 - Messages
- Conversion
 - Conversions
 - Catalog Sales
 - Store Visits

Building a Campaign: Awareness Campaigns

There are two types of Awareness campaigns called Brand Awareness and Reach. These campaigns are particularly useful when launching a new product or service and you are trying to gain as much exposure as possible

These campaigns should not be used to try to drive page traffic, website traffic, or conversions

Campaign Types:

- Brand Awareness
 - Reach people more likely to pay attention to your ads and increase awareness for your brand.
- Reach
 - Show your ad to the maximum number of people.

Building a Campaign: Consideration Campaigns

There are six types of Consideration campaigns. These campaigns are particularly useful for getting people to start thinking about your business and look for more information about it.

Consideration Campaigns

- Video Views
- Lead Generation
- Messages

Building a Campaign: Consideration Campaigns

Building an Ad Set

Building an Ad Set:

After building your campaign you will create your ad set

At the Ad Set level you will have control over the following elements:

- Select where you would like to drive traffic
- Target Audience
- Ad Placements
- Budgets
- Ad Schedule
- Optimization tactic
- Delivery type

Building an Ad Set:

Select Where to Drive Traffic

When deciding where to drive traffic you have the following three options

- Website
 - This is the most common tactic and will drive users directly to your website
- App
 - Increase the number of visitors to a mobile or desktop app
- Messenger
 - Send people from ads into Messenger conversations with your business. Your ad will be shown to people more likely to open Messenger.

Building an Ad Set:

Target Audience

These are the options available for creating a new audience, which you can find in the "Audience" section of ad set creation:

Location

- Target ads to people based on locations (ex: country, state, province, city, congressional district, zip or post code).

Age

- Target ads to people within an age range.

Gender

- Target ads to women, men or people of all genders

Detailed Targeting

- Include or exclude people from an audience based on demographics, interests and/or behaviors.

Lookalike Audiences

- A subset of Custom Audiences is Lookalike Audiences. A Lookalike Audience is a target audience you create from a "source." It finds other people on Facebook who are the most similar to the people in the source.
